Dedication

The pioneer edition of Cabrillo is dedicated to the splendidly tolerant, cordial, and progressive attitude fostered in this county and in this college: Humboldt Spirit.

Satire

Cabrillo

Your colleagues called you mildly mad
When you forsook the south
With phosphorescent curses on
Your bearded mocking mouth.
There was such courage in your heart,
I speak with shaken breath
Of bravery ineffable
And terrible as death.
I see you swagger down the deck,
Your gypsy head held high,
A pistol in your corsair belt,
A sword upon your thigh.
Oh there was daring in your eyes
And laughter on your lips;
You knew the iridescent sea
And gallant, grey-hound ships.
Since none has heralded your death
And none there be who grieves,
Your elegy will be the sea;
Your epitaph—these leaves.

CLASSES

In 1542 Cabrillo, explorer, was driven from the sight of Fort Ross by a southeaster, according to old Spanish records. After his death Ferrelo and his men skirted Humboldt coast in 1543. Captain Jonathan Winship discovered Humboldt Bay by water in 1806. Dr. Josiah Gregg's land party found it by land in 1849.

Christmas Graduates

Lengthwise: Katherine Johnson—salutatorian, Kathleen Anderson, Elsie Hover; Erma Rowe, William Hale, Alfred Ames; Kenneth Glines, Emalyn Stephens, Mary Ziller; Cora Cave—valedictorian, Violet Rowe, Eva Dunlap; Florence Christie, Lee Baird, Helen Hauck. Two other members of this class were Leno Moll and George Jacobson.

The Seniors

The senior class of 1927 was composed of four groups: the May graduates, junior college graduates, the summer school graduates, and A. B. students graduating at the end of the summer school session ending August 5, 1927.

The thirty-two May graduates and the junior college graduates were organized under the leadership of Benjamin Feuerwerker, president; Nora Cauty, secretary; Roberta O'Rourke, treasurer. The summer school graduates had for the head of their organization, Jeanne Brett, president; Elizabeth Marshall, treasurer; Margaret Delaney, secretary. Elizabeth Marshall and Charles Leveque received their A. B. degrees at the end of the summer school session.

The seniors accomplished a great deal in all the school activities. During the time spent in school they gave dances, plays, student body programs, to keep the school spirit from dwindling. The senior dance given Friday evening, June 21, was the crowning event in their school career.

Indians

Oh great God, where are my people?

 Their naked bodies stirred the dew-beaded fronds of the fir trees near the trail,

Which left their bodies glistening in the morning light
 as they followed the deer and quail.

Their leathered feet were daily bathed in the fern-caught moisture of the wood fog, rising, rising. . .

Late, like lazy people, shamedly rising out of sight above the spruce tops.

Their lean faces and muscled breasts broke the spider's misted threads; the toil of a night, God's Rosary, counted but twelve hours.

Oh great God, where are my people?

Used to the chill of wind-tortured fog and sleet and rain,
 of sunshine and frost and fog again, clad in blue jeans,
 grey shirt, store-made shoes, they lead an alien life.

The low mud hut is a clap-board shack, blue-grey against storm-mangled pines at the river's mouth. The winter floods bring the fish; the summer breeds the mosquitoes.

Their children go to the government schools, the young men to college.

Our sun is West, great God.

We shall live now beneath the moon.

COLLEGE

The Klamath war occurred in 1855. In 1860 two hundred Gunther Island Indians were massacred by the whites. Reservations were provided for the Indians by a Congressional act of 1864.

Alma Mater

Fortunate in its name—Humboldt—fortunate in location, in environment, in climate, in association with progressive people, in opportunities for service, the Humboldt State Teachers' College has a splendid present and a glorious future. Faculty and students are devoted to the ideals of continuous personal growth and expert preparation for the profession of teaching.

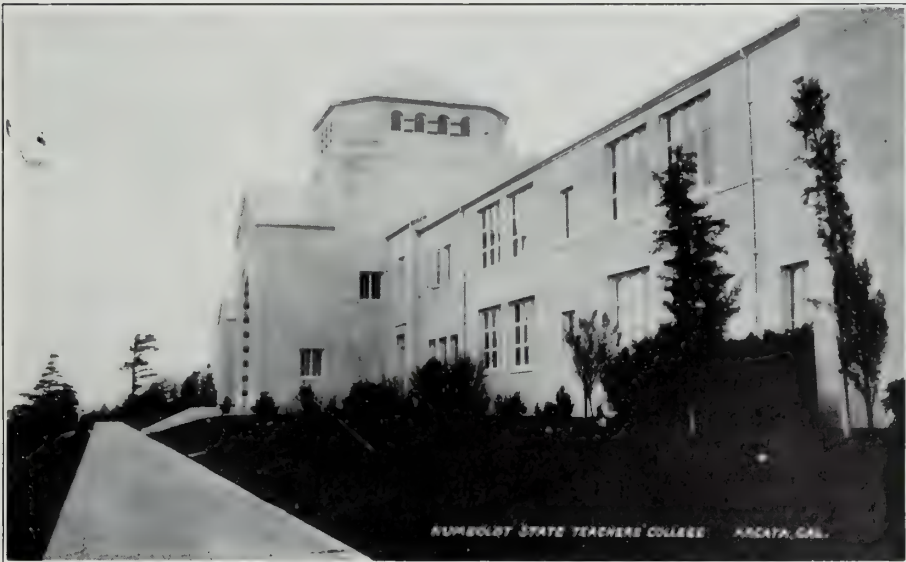

Humboldt College is indirectly named for Alexander Von Humboldt, one of the great men of his time, 1769-1859. He was a tireless explorer of the wildest and most beautiful parts of the earth. He was a pioneer and leader in scientific thinking. His life was dedicated to the interpretation of a universe governed by law. To his purpose and achievements we may turn to-day for inspiration for our own Humboldt standards of open-mindedness, tolerance, and search for the truth.

A second set of our Humboldt ideals is centered around responsibility: accepting a task and seeing it through whether it is an every day affair of cleaning up after a dance or something leading to public recognition. Here learning by doing is paramount. Hence we have almost an entire transfer from faculty to students of the government of our student activities.

One of the sure thresholds to serious business in life is good fellowship and cordiality. Nowhere is this in greater evidence than among the people of Northwestern California. Humboldt and faculty members place great emphasis on knowing each other. Humboldt is a place to make friends.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL ARCADE

LOOKING NORTH
Views Around College.

Arcata and Humboldt Bay as seen from the College Terrace.

As the catalogue says :

"The Humboldt State Normal School was created by an act of the 1913 session of the California legislature. Actual work began on April 6, 1914. A magnificent site of fifty-one acres was donated to the school by W. A. Preston and the Union Water Company. The officers of the latter were N. H. Falk, Len Yocom, Mrs. Arthur Way, and Mrs. Kate Harpst. The 1917 legislature appropriated $245,000 for permanent buildings which have been occupied since February, 1922.

"The professional course in teacher training was originally two years in length. Gradually it has been extended and combined with liberal arts and cultural subjects until the minimum time to be spent for any teachers' diploma granted after September 15, 1927, will be three years.

"Control was first vested in a board of local trustees appointed by the Governor. In 1921 it was transferred to the State Department of Education and placed in the hands of the Director of Education and the State Board of Education. The same legislature changed all of the California Normal Schools to Teachers Colleges. The State Board of Education received the power to authorize them to give four-year courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

"In 1921 a Junior College was established in connection with the Teachers College. The two-year course leads to a Junior Certificate in the College of Letters and Science.

"The enrollment for the last five years has shown a steady and substantial increase; for the college year ending June 31, 1922, 123 students; 1923, 146 students; 1924, 159 students; 1925, 218 students; 1926, 275 students."

Vocal Music Department

In a teachers' training institution such as ours, the primary aim in the organization of the music department must be to equip prospective teachers to handle their classroom music. But, since ability to teach any subject presupposes some personal skill before a knowledge of teaching procedures can be assimilated, most of our courses are strictly developmental and cultural in nature rather than purely vocational.

The courses that have been offered during the last year are, in order of their increasing difficulty: Ear Training, Music Appreciation, Beginning Sight Singing, Advanced Sight Singing, Public School Music, Voice, Glee Club, Quartette (Men's, Women's, and Mixed), and Harmony. The purpose of the Ear Training course is to correct tone deficiency, or to teach a student to carry a tune. In Sight Singing we strive to gain ability to read music fluently of about third-grade difficulty; in Music Appreciation, we learn to understand and enjoy music which is more difficult than we ourselves may be able to perform; in Voice, which is the "early bird class" being held from 7:30 to 8:15 every morning, we gain the principles of simple natural singing; and, last, in Public School Music we learn to teach music to the children in the classroom.

Students who come to the college with ability to sing accurately and to read simple music at sight are excused from Ear Training and Beginning Sight Singing, and are eligible to enter the more advanced courses at once. Those who have taken special music courses in high school thus find it easy to go on without interruption to courses of their own selection.

Although our school is still young and the number of music courses is necessarily somewhat limited, we are constantly growing and adding more courses. Then, too, our very smallness makes the opportunities for individual help and advancement correspondingly greater.

Mrs. Annie Marie Clarke Ostrander is director of this department.

Band

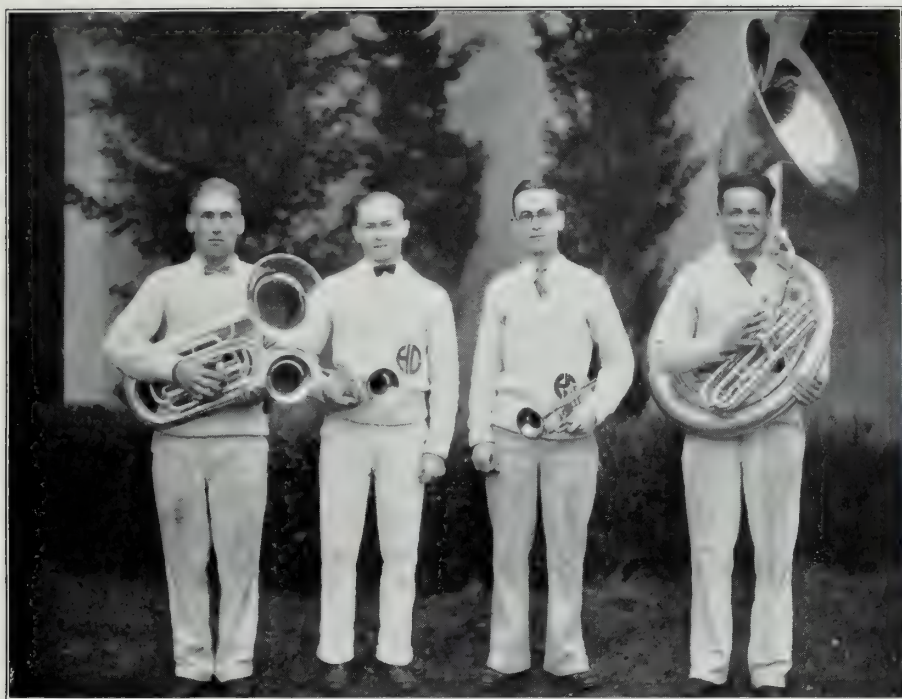

The band is the main representative of the instrumental department of the college. Its past history is brief, because it has been in existence for only about two-thirds of this year. An orchestra of about the same number of pieces preceded it, but was changed into a band because of the lack of stringed instruments.

The department is small; but with the coming of new students we hope to have a rapid increase in the enrollment. Nevertheless, the band is well balanced. The music with which the band works is of the highest class; and because of this fact anyone who enters the department receives the same training that he would had he entered a private class.

Instrumental Quartette

The Boys' Instrumental Quartette is an offspring of the college band. The members have been working together for one semester, and have already represented the department from which they are taken. They also represented Humboldt State College's instrumental music department on the annual Lyceum trip.

The personnel and instrumentation include: Verner Haapala, first trumpet; Dan Symmes, second trumpets; Winston Schussman, euphoneum; Truman Wood, sousaphone.

“Back to the Farm” was a three-act play given in all of the larger towns of Humboldt County last fall for the purpose of raising $1000 for advertising the summer session of this college. The play was under the directorship of Carl Powman. The leading characters of the play were given membership in the Literati, the dramatics and public speaking society of Humboldt.

Lyceum

One of the main events of the calendar of H. S. T. C. is the annual lyceum.

This year, which is the third year of its existence, shows a remarkable increase in the talent-in-general of the college. A better program, larger audiences, and an increase in public interest attest this fact. From now on, it is certain that all of Humboldt County, and the various counties below it, will look forward from one year's appearance to that of the next. The plan of a lyceum is due to our President's initiative.

The 1927 Lyceum program was increased by two outstanding engagements, Vallejo and Petaluma. The series began with the first performance at Crannell, then in Korbel, Blue Lake, Fortuna, Ferndale, Scotia, Arcata, Garberville, Willits, Lakeport, Ukiah, Sebastapool, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Vallejo, “KPO”—San Francisco, and Eureka.

One of the outstanding features of the Lyceum was a broadcast over radio station “KPO” in San Francisco, on the evening of April 9, from 7 until 8 p. m. The program was as follows:

Literati Banquet

A banquet and initiation for new members was held the beginning of the fall semester. After the banquet and initiation there was a program to which the faculty was invited.

Home Economics Tea

Residents of Arcata and vicinity were invited to a tea given at the college Friday afternoon, August 26, from 3:20 to 5:15 in the new college cafeteria. Dancing was enjoyed and a program was given.

Freshman Return Dance

The Freshman Class gave its return dance the first week in October. The library was attractively decorated with crepe paper streamers. The Collegians furnished the music.

Dormitory Tea

Humboldt State College women students who live at the dormitory entertained Thursday afternoon, October 10, in honor of the faculty women and the wives of the faculty men. A program was presented during the afternoon.

Hallome'en Costume Ball

The last week in October the student body entertained at a costume ball. The hall took on a very spooky appearance. Elenore Yocom took first prize for costume and Leno Mall took the prize for the funniest costume.

Christmas Dance

In December, 1926, a Christmas dance was held in the library. The decorations were very attractive and in keeping with the season. A novel feature was the snowstorm showered on the dancers at intervals during the evening. Punch was served during the evening.

Freshman Reception

The semi-annual reception for new students was held in the library January 20, 1927. The Collegians furnished the music and a large crowd attended. Green and gold crepe paper decorated the library giving it a very festive appearance.

Literati Banquet

A dinner and initiation were held in the social unit of the college Thursday, January 27, 1927. A one-act play was presented during the evening and a dance number was given.

W. A. A. Banquet

The W. A. A. held its semi-annual banquet and initiation on January 29, 1927.

The banquet was a novel affair. At the last meeting before the banquet it was discovered that there were just forty-nine members, so it was decided to have a "forty-niner" banquet. All the girls wore typical clothing of the gold-rush period and the fare was simple, consisting of beans, brown bread, apple pie and ice cream.

After the banquet the initiation of the new members was held, the theme being "Crossing the Plains." The covered wagon was uncovered and many other surprises were enjoyed, much to the chagrin of the freshmen.

Faculty Banquet

On Monday evening, February 1, the faculty entertained at a banquet in the cafeteria in honor of Miss Helen Hefferman, commissioner of elementary education in California, who visited three days here.

San Jose Banquet

On February 4, the Associated Men Students of the College gave a banquet for the San Jose basket ball team and the firemen team. Monroe Spaght acted as toastmaster. During the banquet a program was given.

College Civic Club Dance

An enjoyable afternoon dance was held in the library Thursday afternoon, February 11, sponsored by the Civic Club. An orchestra from the Arcata Union High School furnished the music for about thirty-five couples. This was one of the largest crowds at an afternoon dance for months.

Cosmopolitan Club

Thursday, February 17, the Cosmopolitan Club held its first social meeting of the year. Ben Feuerwerker was toastmaster at the banquet held in the social unit of the college at 6 o'clock. A program was presented after dinner and an interesting talk given by President Ralph W. Swetman.

"Kid" Party

Miss Grace Burton, librarian, entertained her group at a "kid" party, Thursday, February 24, 1927. All the girls came dressed as children, and games befitting the occasion were played.

Mardi Gras Dinner Dance

The cafeteria and dormitory entertained the student body at a costume ball February 25, 1927. Dinner was served at 6:30 with dancing between courses. After the dinner, dancing was enjoyed until 12 o'clock. Elenore Yocom reigned as queen and Truman Wood as king.

Miners

They were brave and strong men,
The heroes of Forty-nine
Whose deeds of glory are written
On the endless Book of Time ;
Who heard a call from the Westland,
A message that bid them come,
With a promise of treasure for them
In the land by the setting sun.
They answered the call from the Westland
And toiled o'er desert and plain,
And hewed a path through the forests
To the shores of the Western main.
On the shores of the great Pacific,
Here would their treasure be.
And they laid the stones of their campfires
Where the forests meet the sea.
And the campfires gleamed in shadows
Of the mighty forest trees,
And the sound of picks and axes
Rang out in the mountain breeze.
The trail that was blazed grew wider,
And towns from the lone camps grew,
To a life that was freer and wilder
And that only the great West knew.
But no need that we tell their story,
For the echoes through ages shall tell
Of deeds of honor and glory.
As they toiled through a life of Hell.
They stand with the noblest builders
Of a nation strong and free,
And they planted the free man's banner
On the rim of the Sunset Sea.
We bless the memory of the Forty-niner,
Our own beloved pioneer,
The rugged toilworn miner
That started the home fires here.

Evelyn Stokes Bertrand

Miners spent a wretched winter here in 1850; their quarters were known as Starvation Camp. Hydraulic mining was carried on in 1880. County placer mines probably contain some of the richest platinum in the United States.

The Women's Athletic Association was organized in September, 1925, by Miss Laura Herron, girls' athletic coach. The purpose of the organization is to create an interest in athletics in the school. Any woman member of the school who participates or is interested may become a member.

An initiation banquet is given within the first three weeks of the school semester. In the fall semester, a formal dance and banquet were given. In the spring semester, the banquet was combined with a volleyball tournament which was attended by the volley-ball teams from Arcata and Ferndale high schools.

Each year the association sponsors a "play day". On this day, the high schools send teams to take part in the athletic contests held at the college. This year all the high schools of northern California were invited to send representatives.

The Associated Women Students was organized for the mutual benefit and cooperation of the women students and the women faculty members. The most important work of the organization was accomplished through the Big and Little Sisters. Better study habits were formed, more acquaintances were made, and cliques were eliminated through the cooperation of the Big and Little Sisters. The women faculty members in their position as advisors to certain groups of the Big and Little Sisters, became better acquainted with the women students.

Burton's Boasters made curtains for the training school library and bought a pencil sharpener for the second floor of the college. The Little-Stevens group beautified the girls' rest rooms and helped Mr. Bowman in his dramatic work whenever possible. Mrs. Cartlich's group planted a flower bed for the cafeteria tables. Mrs. Stanley's group sponsored the "Redwood Trail" training school paper, planted a dahlia garden, and dyed the stage curtains. Other groups included Miss Herron's, Mrs. Brigham's, and Mrs. Ostrander's.

The motto of the organization is, "Learn something new," and it was the keynote of all activities for the year.

There were two standing committees: the program committee, of which June Shields was chairman; and the entertainment committee, of which Virginia Herron was chairman. An assembly program was given under the direction of the program committee.

In January an informal reception was given for Mrs. Jerome O. Cross, who organized the Parent Teachers' Association in Chicago. On February 4, an assembly was given by the women students in honor of the San Jose boys' basketball team. The Association plans to send a delegate to the Y. W. C. A. summer conference at Asilomar, near Monterey. Twenty-five dollars were raised for a scholarship for a girl student of the College of outstanding merit. A girls' jinks was given in April which was strictly a girls' dance.

Literati is an honorary organization composed of students who have an interest and some degree of skill in one or more of the phases of speech and dramatic arts, which include public speaking, debating, literary interpretation, story telling, and drama. Literati has a dual purpose of self-improvement of its members, and service to Humboldt State College.

The members of Literati meet in the college social unit once each month for dinner and a program. Guests are invited for most of these programs. For one program invitations were extended to all the college faculty; for another each member invited a friend as his guest to the program and the dinner; and still another program was given for the Parent Teachers' Association.

The Cosmopolitan Club was organized February 3, 1927, by the students and the faculty of the college. The purpose as stated in the preamble to the constitution of the club, is "to broaden our viewpoint toward life, promote interest in world affairs, cultivate a spirit of understanding of all people, and foster international good will". The motto of the club is, "Above all nations is Humanity." The only qualification for membership is "openmindedness." This means that all members have an interest in world important affairs, and enter into the discussion of them with the idea of becoming able to discuss them intelligently. There were forty charter members; others joined later in the semester. Meetings are held in the social unit every Thursday afternoon from 3:20 to 4:30, except on the third Thursday of each month when the club has a social evening.

Spring Semester

The College Civic Club was organized by the members of the civic education class to further better citizenship in the school and community. The members paid dues once a month with which they bought a new garage can for the old court and kept ink in the lower hall for the use of the students.

Audubon Bird Club

February 16, 1927, the members of the nature study class at the college joined the Junior Audubon Society of America, an organization which has done much toward fulfilling its object: preservation of the nation's birds. The members of the club have also sponsored work in nature study in the training school. Several of the members of the upper grades have joined the Society.

Cabrillo

A motion to publish an annual this year was passed in a special student's body meeting January 21, 1927, after a heated discussion. Ruth Ballard was elected editor and William Brown business manager, on February 5, Ground Hog's Day. Winston Schussman was appointed assistant editor March 15, after having passed a rigid examination given to all those interested in the position. Following are the rest of the staff and their departments: Adrian Anderson, classics; Virginia Herron, satire; Reva Look, general aide; Freda Ray, assistant art; Daniel Symmes, art; Loganelle Reese, society and faculty; Winston Schussman, music and dramatics; Evelyn Williams, organizations; Truman Wood, photographs; Herbert Yocom, athletics. Elizageth Marshall, Clara Boice, and Truman Wood, assisted the business manager; Maurice Hicklin, English instructor, was faculty advisor. Eleanor Derby was added to the art staff in April because of the splendid assistance she had given to that department.

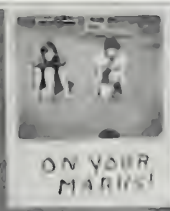

"Cabrillo" was chosen as the name of the annual after much debate. The euphony and historical significance of the word were the deciding factors. Cabrillo was a daring explorer who discovered California and commanded an intrepid expedition. Members of his expedition sailed as far as Humboldt county after his death. His name is synonymous for courage, a quality which must necessarily be noticeably present in connection with the publication of the next few issues of this volume.

Pioneers

Pioneer hearts were steadfast,
Pioneer hands were strong,
Pioneer life held hardships,
Pioneer trails were long.

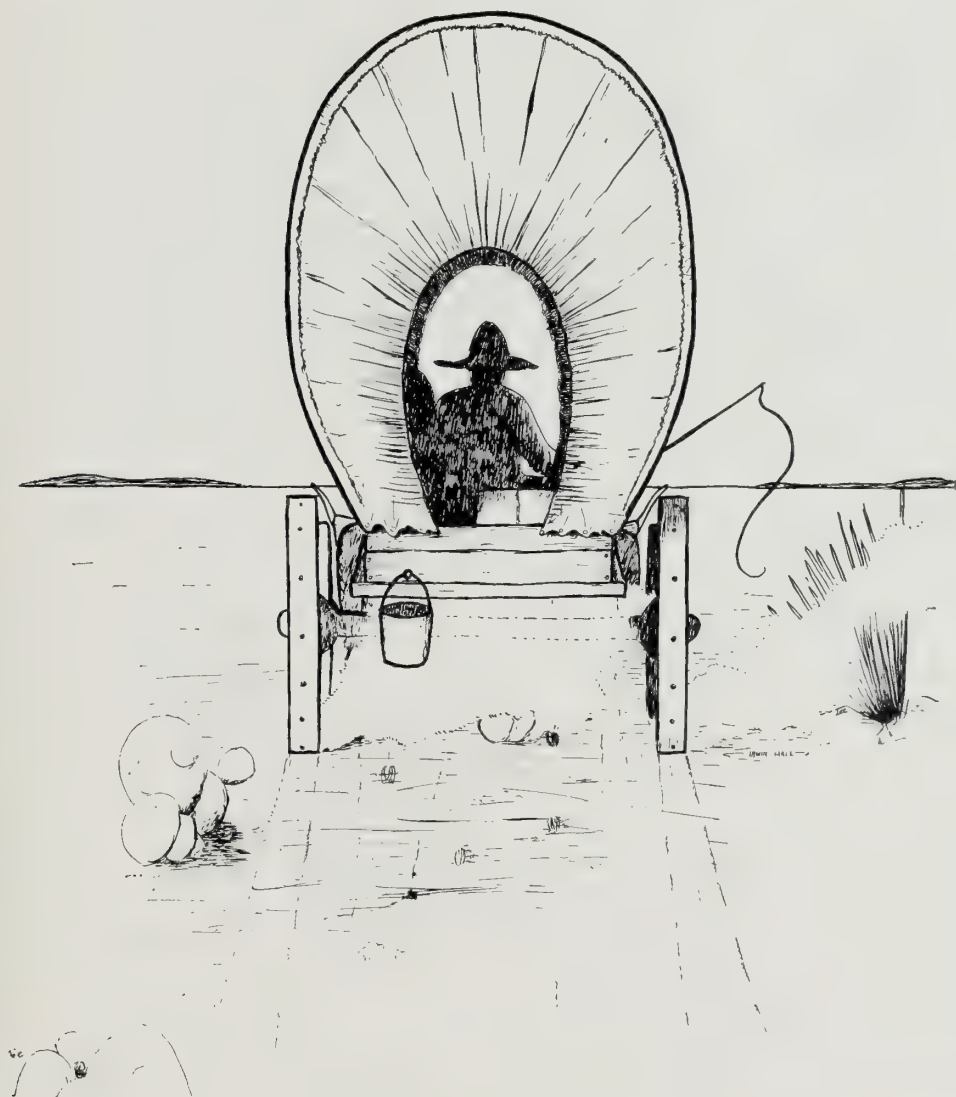

Into the land of the redwoods
Where silence had long held sway,
Pioneers, always advancing,
Came with their saws one day.

The semper virens were conquered
And the buzz of the saw was heard
Where the only thief of quiet
Had once been the song of a bird.

Pioneer hearts were steadfast.
Pioneer hands were strong,
And Pioneers, Pioneers conquered,
Though Pioneer trails were long.

Ruth M. O'Kelly

ATHLETICS

Humboldt pioneers were sturdy, determined, and of high character. The first bay townsite was Humboldt City, 1850. Eureka was also founded in 1850. The county seat was removed from Arcata to Eureka by an act passed by the legislature of 1855-1856.

Sports Review

Humboldt College, for the first time, has entered into athletics with a spirit that should, within the next few semesters, win it recognition among the state teachers and junior colleges as a contender for athletic supremacy among the smaller coast institutions. Handicapped always with the great distances separating it from other schools of a like calibre, Humboldt has during the past few years built up a firm athletic relationship with San Jose State College, largely through the annual basketball series. Next year Humboldt expects further to increase her athletic connections with other similar state schools.

An ever-increasing enrollment of men students has made possible this athletic growth, and the women students have during the same period been accumulating a prestige in sporting circles that last spring carried them to the top of the athletic world as winners of the college division of the National Telegraphic Track and Field Meet.

Humboldt has really begun its fight for recognition in the world of sports, and with a steady display of persistency over a period of not one year but of several years should eventually find itself established as a member of the California Coast College Conference.

Sport by Sport Review:

Football

For the second time in the history of the school, Humboldt experimented with football, and for the second time in its history found the game too much for it. A team was formed in the fall and equipped with new outfits; but after only two games had been played, it was forced to disband for two reasons: lack of sufficient material, and the presence of only high school competition.

Track

In the past this school has not entered men students in track and field activities, but, judging from the presence of several athletes on the cinder-path at this writing, it appears that the sport may be given some consideration this spring, possibly to the extent of sending one or two representatives to a state college meet.

Basketball

Featured by the annual series with San Jose and by the team's entrance into the Humboldt County Independent League, basketball occupied the center of interest for the first half of the spring semester this year. Although the Green and Gold failed to defeat San Jose and finished third in the league standings, it may be said with confidence that Humboldt's future in basketball is assured.

The San Jose series was held on Thursday and Friday evenings, February 3 and 4, San Jose winning the first game 40 to 11, and the second 44 to 10. While the scores do not indicate hard battles, the fact remains that the San Joseans were forced to extend themselves throughout both games, and afterwards admitted they admired the fighting Humboldt spirit.

Captain Ben Feuerwerker led his seven team-mates to three victories in twelve starts in the Independent League, facing experienced teams in every game. Third place in the four-team league was the team's lot.

Coach Fred Falkenberg's first team was composed of Ralph Baird, forward; Roy Harrison, forward; Waldo Iversen, center; Morris Nelson, guard; and Ben Feuerwerker, guard. Reserves were Wilbur Ellis, John Gallagher, and Daven Devlin.

Women's Basketball

Competition in this sport is limited to contests with the four county high school teams, Humboldt last year having two teams competing with the prep school first and second teams. Scores were as follows:

Humboldt vs. Fortuna first team—H. 18, F. 15.

Humboldt vs. Fortuna seconds—H. 25, F. 17.

Humboldt vs. Ferndale first team—H. 50, F. 12.

Humboldt vs. Ferndale second team—H. 30, F. 13.

The following made up the first team lineup: Forwards—Jeanne Brett, Rose Mary Regli, Ellen Martz; centers—Marion Cooper, Rose Mary Regli; Guards—Roberta O'Rourke, Ethel Loo, Shirley Cameron.

The inter-class girls' basketball championship went to the upper-class team, which won two games of a three game series. Scores were: Upper class 32, Freshmen 15; UC 14, Fr 15, UC 36, Fr 12.

The upper class team consisted of Jeanne Brett, Ellen Martz, Rose Mary Regli, Roberta O' Rourke, Elizabeth Marshall, and Gertrude Meisser. The freshman lineup included Evelyn Hunter, Helen Lemon, Matilda Iversen, Leona Simms, Marion Cooper, Fern Rolph, Susie Banducci, Shirley Cameron, Ethel Loo, Marie Haywood, and Eva Larson.

Volley Ball

This sport has become the most popular activity at Humboldt, tournaments being held to decide the women's championships of the upper and freshman classes and intra-mural groups. The upperclass first team defeated the freshman first squad in February by scores of 27 to 23 and 23 to 19. The freshmen reversed the order, however, in the struggle for second team supremacy by taking two victories in a three-game series. Scores: 33 to 32, 16 to 26, and 26 to 19.

Margaret Delaney's team of "Leather Snackers" eliminated all competition in a series of games to decide the intra-mural championship.

A series of mixed volley ball games in which teams were composed of half men and half women, resulted in William Tuohey's team being returned the champions.

Men's Baseball

As the "Cabrillo" goes to press, the varsity baseball team is on its annual trip into the southland, where it is scheduled to play San Jose College a two-game series, and one game each with San Mateo Junior College and Chico State College. The series will mark the third annual encounter with San Jose, while the other two games will open Humboldt's athletic relationships with San Mateo and Chico.

The Humboldt nine has had one of its most successful local seasons in years, having to date won seven games and lost but one. Led by Coach Fred P. Falkenberg, former major league pitcher, the squad has beaten Arcata high school three times by large scores, Fortuna high twice, the Eureka All-Stars once, and divided a two-game series with Eureka high. This is the best record any Humboldt team has yet made.

The players who have helped towards making the season a success are: Roy Harrison, catcher; Frank Acorn, Abner Brantley, Edwin Haapala, and Claire Brogan, pitchers; Clifton Branstetter, first base; George Ginochio, second base; Byard Chamberlain, third base; Ralph Baird, short stop; John Gallagher, Waldo Iversen and Morris Nelson, outfielders; and Louis Fleckenstein, utility.

Women's Track

Headed by Coach Laura Herron and Elta Cartwright, whom newspaper critics throughout the United States hail as a "modern Atalanta", the girl's track team won fame for Humboldt State College by winning the college division of the National Telegraphic Track and Field Meet held last April. Elta, who is world's champion women sprinter over the 100-yard distance, established a new women's world record for the 50-yard dash by traversing the distance in 5 9-10 seconds in the national meet, and with points gained in other events helped Humboldt to total 42 points against the nearest competitor's 27. Louisiana Polytechnic was the school finishing second to Humboldt, and others were as follows:

Battle Creek Normal—17
 Ohio Wesleyan—14
 Kansas—10
 Oklahoma—7
 Brena and Louisiana State—5
 Aberdeen—2

Humboldt will probably enter the meet again this spring.

The following Humboldt girls were those whose victories in the meet conducted here were telegraphed to the officials of the national meet at New Jersey, and whose records enabled Humboldt to finish first:

50-yard dash—Elta Cartwright, time 5 9-10 seconds.

100-yard dash—Elta Cartwright, time 11 4-5 seconds.

60-yard hurdles—Ruth Stewart, time 9 seconds.

220-yard relay-winning team—Leno Moll, Ruth Stewart, Rose Mary Regli, Katherine Johnson; time 28 seconds.

440-yard relay-winning team—Line-up same as above.

500-yard relay—Leno Moll, Margaret Delaney, Ruth Stewart, Ellen Sarlund, Ellen Martz, Rose Mary Regli, Katherine Johnson, Cora Cave, Jeanne Brett, Elsie Ray; time 67 seconds.

High jump—Marie Howard, height 4 feet 8 3-16 inches.

Broad jump—Cartwright, distance 16 feet 9 inches.

Shot put—Rose Mary Regli, distance 30 feet 2 1-4 inches.

Baseball throw—Elenore Yocom, distance 193 feet 8 inches.

Tennis

Tennis at Humboldt State has become a popular sport under the coaching of Laura Herron, former women's inter-collegiate champion of the Pacific Coast, and now director of physical activities for women at Humboldt. The following students are champions of the college as the result of an elimination tournament conducted last fall:

Women's singles—Mary Lee Sears.

Men's singles—Clifton Branstetter.

Mixed doubles—Mary Lee Sears and Oliver McCammon.

Women's Baseball

Humboldt women won additional recognition in athletics by defeating two men's teams in baseball, a team representing the Odd Fellows Lodge and one representing the California Press Association falling before their basketball prowess in this sport last spring.

Five games were played with county high school teams, Humboldt winning four. The scores were: Humboldt 8, Fortuna 9 (four innings); H. 14, Arcata 4; H. 21, A. 6; H. 16, Eureka 5; H. 15, F. 1.

Activities in baseball for this year are too late for publication. Last year's lineup follows:

Jeanne Brett, p; Elsie Ray, c; Roberta O' Rourke, 1b; Ellen Martz, Aletha Edsen, 2b.; Rose Mary Regli, ss; Gertrude Meisser, 3b; Ellen Sarlund, Laverne Larson, lf; Leno Moll, Marion Butler, cf; Eva Stephens, rf.

To Humboldt's Redwoods

Thou mighty redwood tree, standing since the first of time,
Guardian of this college, in thy calmness most sublime,
Holding in thy shadows and thy memories so fast
Secrets of great ages, long since gone, long past,
Now standing out boldly, 'neath the sky's dark blue,
Now lost in the shadows of a misty hue,
A grand old monarch unyielding to stand
Ever the same in our changing land.

Winston Schussman

SATIRE

The first shipment of lumber was sent out in 1851. The circular saw, starting a long line of improvements, was introduced in 1862. There were originally 538,000 acres of redwood in Humboldt County. There is a world-wide market for redwood.

Anxious old lady—(on a river steamer)—I say, my good man, is the boat going up or down?

Deckhand—Well, she's a leaky old tub, ma'am. So I shouldn't wonder if she was going down. Then again, her boilers ain't too good, 'n she might go up.

He—Why did they hang the picture?

She—Perhaps they couldn't find the artist.

Chet—Down south they pick cotton, but up north they ain't pickin' any.

A farmer wrote to a magazine and asked the information department how he could stop his horse from slobbering. The answer came to him: Teach him how to spit.

Adrian—Hey, Ken, do you smoke quarter cigars?

Ken—I smoke them closer than that.

Ed. Nix—Windy, didn't you see me down town yesterday? I saw you twice.

Windy—I never see people in that condition.

Attorney—Mr. Washington Brown, are you married?

W. B.—No, stuh, boss, ah makes my own living.

Dan—Where did you get that smoking jacket?

Ben—At a fire sale.

Englishman hears owl for the first time—What is that?

Answer—An owl.

Englishman—My dear fellow, I know that, but what is 'owling?

Motorist—Why did you stop me?

Cop—For speeding.

M.—But I just saw a sign down the road: Fine for speeding.

Boy-friend—I'll never see you in Heaven.

Elta—What have you done now?

LOGANELLE

Dedicated to Homer Spellenberg and Milum Tackett

It's got four wheels
And an engine, too.
The gas tank leaks
And the horn never blew.
The wheels are round
And the tires are flat,
But she hits on four
For all of that.
The timer's shot;
The top, it ain't;
And all the body needs
Is a coat of paint.
So here's to Tackett's Lizzy,
And Homer's Chevrolet;
May they be kept quite busy
From rattling day to day.
By Windy, (an ex-Ford owner).

Lots of women think Easter Sunday is Decoration Day.

Necking bus howler—We are now passing one of the oldest inns in England.

“Why?” came a husky voice from the rear.

Doc, I want to get rid of snoring.
Does it disturb your wife?
No, the whole congregation.

Yes, poor Pat was killed by a revolving crane.
My, what fierce birds you have in America.

Lady passenger with ten dollar bill: Sorry I haven't a nickle.
Conductor—Don't worry, lady, you'll have 199 of them in a minute.

Are you the man who saved my son from drowning?
Yes.
Where's his mittens?

A—Yes, suh, man, I can trace my relations back to a family tree.
B—Chase 'em back to a family tree?
A—No man, trace 'em back I says.
B—Well dey ain't but two kinds of things dat lives in trees—birds and monkeys—and you ain't got no feathers.

THE CABRILLO COMES OUT

And on reading it you will find

That the pictures are terrible

That the jokes are worse

That you are mad because you got razzed

That you are mad because you didn't get razzed

That the editor is worse than you thought she was

That Coach Herron looks like a rose among several thorns

That there aren't nearly enough snaps

That it is a wonder they couldn't spell my name right

That everybody crabs at the write-ups

That the book isn't so bad after all.
